

I thought that meant walk stiffly!

If we took one class in driver's education, we're aware of what each of the common road signs mean. If it's yellow with the curved arrow pointing right, we know there's a curve coming up to the right.

What if we didn't know what they mean?

Some of those signs might be communicating more than the designers bargained for. Your task today is to come up with alternate meanings for the following 5 common road signs:
